

Manager of the Crisis Centre, Mary Dobbie, and her husband, George, with staff of the Crisis Centre, and Aon and Pick 'n Pay representatives.

Crisis Centre renovations complete

■ Estella Naicker

Renovations to the Crisis Centre have been completed and the fresh paint and minor restructuring definitely lend this place of safety a more homely and comfortable feel.

At a morning tea, Crisis Centre manager, Mary Dobbie, thanked all the sponsors who played a hand in sprucing up the building. The victims of abuse and neglect, who have taken refuge at the Crisis Centre, sang their thanks and praise for this kind gesture. According to Mrs Dobbie, the renovations took two weeks and cost roughly R70 000. Floor manager of corporate sponsor, Pick n Pay, Evienne Snyers, said it was a pleasure to help the Crisis Centre in any way possible, and staff of Aon, another large sponsor, echoed Mr Snyers' sentiments. Other sponsors included Checkers, Game, ArcelorMittal, Miriam Moolla and friends, the Chetty family and Victor Logistics.