

Glitch delays JSE news service

TECHNICALITY | The Johannesburg Stock Exchange (JSE) resumed its regulatory news service yesterday, following a technical glitch that forced ArcelorMittal's South African unit to delay the release of its full-year results. Companies are required to release their results via the service, which yesterday was operational two hours later than usual. Reuters