

Home receives help

VANDEBBIJLPARK. – The Montana Home for Mentally Ill Patients in Rosasoshof received a brand new home at the end of last year.

The centre cares for 24 residents. Because of the huge need for accommodation for mentally ill patients in the area, Montana is regularly approached by hospitals and Mental Health to take in more patients.

The ideal is to have the male and female patients in separate facilities.

“Thanks to the new building, we can now accommodate more patients and can also divide the males from the females,” said Mr Khumalo, manager at Montana.

The centre was started by his late wife, Olive Khumalo.

ArcelorMittal was the biggest investor in the project with an investment of R210 000, and Century Electrical Sasolburg, Ind-Lite Electrical Contractor, Diamond Power and Clotan Steel also invested in the Venture.

Lusa Community Chest facilitated the project.
