

Steely resolve

Arcelor Mittal workers from several Liege steel plants clash with riot policemen during a demonstration outside the Walloon Region Parliament in Namur this week. ArcelorMittal, the world's largest steel producer, plans to shut a coke plant and six finishing lines at its site in Liege, Belgium, affecting 1300 employees, the group said last week || PHOTO: REUTERS